

Previously, I served as an instructor officer at the Department of Military and Strategic Studies at the Republic of Korea Air Force Academy for three years. I also led discussions sections (precepts) as an assistant instructor at Princeton for one semester.

Teaching Awards

Superintendent’s Award for Teaching Excellence, Republic of Korea Air Force Academy (2012)

Top Prize, Teaching Methods Contest, Republic of Korea Air Force Academy (2012)

Course Evaluations

Princeton University (Assistant Instructor)	Ratings (on a scale of 5)
Grand Strategy (Spring 2017)	4.30 (Department mean: 3.97)
Republic of Korea Air Force Academy (Instructor)	Ratings (on a scale of 5)
Introduction to International Relations (Fall 2010)	4.24
Introduction to International Relations (Fall 2011)	4.51
Introduction to International Relations (Fall 2012)	4.53
International Conflict (Spring 2011)	4.51
International Conflict (Spring 2012)	4.65
International Conflict (Spring 2013)	4.52
National Security: Theory and Practice (Spring 2011)	4.06
National Security: Theory and Practice (Spring 2012)	4.58
National Security: Theory and Practice (Spring 2013)	4.59
International Diplomatic History (Fall 2010)	4.55
History of Warfare (Fall 2012)	4.53
Military Classics Reading Seminar: Sun Tzu and Clausewitz (Fall 2012)	4.83
Northeast Asian Security (Spring 2012)	4.61
Understanding the North Korean Regime (Spring 2011)	3.93
Understanding the North Korean Regime (Fall 2011)	4.41
Chinese Foreign Policy and Military Strategy (Winter 2012)	5.00

Examples of Comments from Students

Assistant Instructor (Preceptor), WWS 315 Grand Strategy, Spring 2017, Princeton University

“Probably the best academic experiences I've ever had. Full of intelligent, motivated people making interesting and insightful points, occasionally conflicting. Jay asked questions that stimulated discussion and encouraged us to apply the lessons we were learning to modern-day issues. Overall, easily the best 50 minutes of my week.”

“Jeongseok had an excellent grasp of history and strategy, and he led our precepts commendably!”

“Precepts were great. This is the best precept I've ever had and by far the most stimulating, it was amazing. I loved it.”

“Jay was very helpful in precept and, especially, with the final paper. I truly appreciate his help with the essay and his recommendations for sources. I would have appreciated also hearing his take on the questions we were discussing in precept, since he is more of an expert in these topics than I (and my peers) are.”

“J was a good preceptor, he was always helpful, was kind and understanding and takes the time to help you whenever you need it, and responsive to student's questions. He also did a good job of evenly calling on people in precept. I also liked the discussion questions being given before the precept and available as we did readings, and I thought the questions were a great way to help focus the readings and well as emphasize some of the main takeaways of the course. Keep the discussion questions, they were really good and helpful.”

“Jay ran an extremely lively and active precept. Students participated broadly, and the discussion was always very interesting.”

“He wove together the ideas we learned in precepts and challenged our ideas and knowledge through argumentation.”

“I loved my precept so much! Everyone was very engaging, and the discussions were very interesting. My preceptor threw appropriate questions to us as well. I feel like I was very fortunate with my precept placement.”

“Jay was an amazing preceptor. Very willing to facilitate discussion as well as input into class discussion. I liked the way that questions were posted before precept, and I felt that it was extremely helpful to guide class discussion. Jay was also really open to helping students who are struggling.”

Courses Taught (Undergraduate)

- Introduction to International Relations (Instructor)
- International Conflict (Instructor)
- National Security: Theory and Practice (Instructor)
- History of Warfare (Instructor)
- Understanding the North Korean Regime (Instructor)
- Northeast Asian Security (Instructor)
- Military Classics Reading Seminar: Sun Tzu and Clausewitz (Instructor)
- Chinese Foreign Policy and Military Strategy (Instructor)
- Grand Strategy (Assistant Instructor)

Available Courses (Undergraduate and Graduate)

- International Security
- International Organization
- Nuclear Technology, Weapons, and Strategy
- International Relations of East Asia
- East Asian Politics
- US Foreign Policy
- Chinese Politics and Foreign Relations
- Japanese Politics and Foreign Relations
- Korean Politics and Foreign Relations
- Social Science Research Methodology
- Advanced Qualitative Methodology